

NATHAN SNIPES

Web & Graphic Designer/Network Administrator

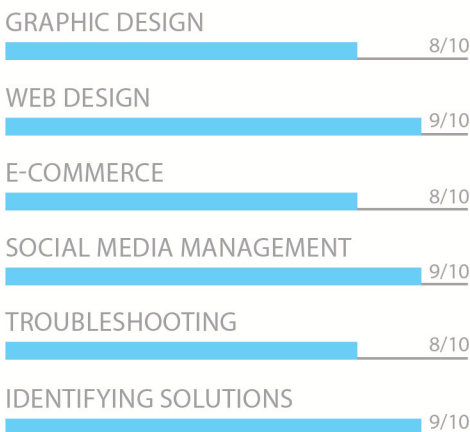

PROFILE

I'm Nathan Snipes, and I have spent the past 16 years dedicated to the field of web development and IT management with a local business in Evansville.

My career began at Purdue University in the School of Technology and has allowed me to work with a variety of clients and industries.

A majority of my experience has been in graphic design, web development and various system administrative duties. My current employer has required me to provide excellent communication with staff and outside parties, as well as negotiate contracts and provide live support.
